THE CRIME

Wanted for stealing Rapunzel.

The husband stole some Rapunzel from the witch for his wife, but the second time he stole, The Witch caught him. The Witch thought for a moment and cackled to the husband, "You may take as much rapunzel as you want. But you must promise to give me your first child when it is born." The husband agreed, thinking The Witch would forget. But the witch remembered, and when the wife bore a child, The Witch took the baby and named her Rapunzel (in spite of everything that happened).

She raised her as a child.
